

WW1 Community Sharing Day

Grenville Gibbins It really was good. I met some of my friends and familiar face. Graham Ritchie, Michael Tedd, Des and Jim Taylor and many more. I said I wouldn't return to Anstey to live but I will keep visiting.

Keith Sturman

learned a lot regarding Des's grandad Thomas Sturman and great uncle Samuel Sturman.

There was one particularly moving story that evolved during the day. A gentleman named Ron Tilby came in with an heirloom: a WW1 metal spoon which clearly showed where a bullet had saved his grandfather. He knew very little about his family including his grandfather. Working with our experts throughout the day, he researched and discovered more information which has now motivated and inspired him to discover more.
